

Eleanor Heuser

alma mater

Voices hymn thy valiant praises,
Hearts thy halls enshine.
May our loyalty unceasing
Amherst e'er be thine.

'Neath thy towers facing northward,
We shall always be Ever faithful, Alma Mater,
To thy memory.

When we leave thy halls of learning
Paths of life to stray,
May your guidance never ending Light us on our way.

foreword

In the following pages we have attempted to capture the true spirit of Amherst. This is an impossible task, for that spirit is the collective thoughts, emotions, and deeds of 1200 individuals. How can words and pictures project the tense, thrilling excitement of a crowd of loyal rooters in the last few minutes of a close Friday night game? How can we record the satisfaction of doing a chemistry experiment right for a change? Who could count all the individual success and disappointments each of us has known here?

The 1959 Tower is themeless. We have not tried to make Amherst into a space ship or a medieval castle or a steel mill. We have told the story of what takes place beneath those three proud towers without gimmicks and without "corn."

You will forget Amherst. Thoughts of the things you did here and the people you know here will become dim and misty memories. You will forget the faces in the halls, the assemblies and the cafeteria where you sat down to lunch on every school day for three years.

Perhaps sometime in the future you will pick up your 1959 Tower and it will remind you of what you did for Amherst, of what Amherst did for you. We hope so, for after all, that should be the purpose of a yearbook.

dedication

We, the graduating class of 1959, wish to dedicate our Tower to Mr. Walter Reitz to show him the respect and esteem in which he is held by the students of Amherst. To those who have known him personally, he has taught an appreciation of music and hard work; to those who have known him only through the operettas, he has brought great enjoyment. It is our hope that this dedication will long be a reminder to him of our gratefulness and appreciation for his untiring efforts to bring to us the beauty of music.

administration

Mr. Schweickhard

The guiding light of the Amherst Central administration for over a quarter of a century has been Mr. Philip A. Schweickhard, a major element in the school's success throughout the years. In rendering his capable assistance to the directing staff he has won the esteem of all who have associated with him. Such a dedicated man has been the symbol of quiet understanding to countless Amherstonians of the past and present.

Dr. Scheller

If the success of a high school administrator can be measured by the respect and admiration of the student body and faculty, there can be no doubt about the accomplishment of Dr. Scheller. A good school is made up of many fine ingredients. One of the most important is a progressive and capable principal. Amherst is fortunate in this respect.

The class of 1959 is grateful to Dr. Scheller for his understanding leadership during our years at Amherst. Whether behind the scenes in his office or in the spotlight of an afternoon assembly, Dr. Scheller has striven to make our good school a better one.

adult education

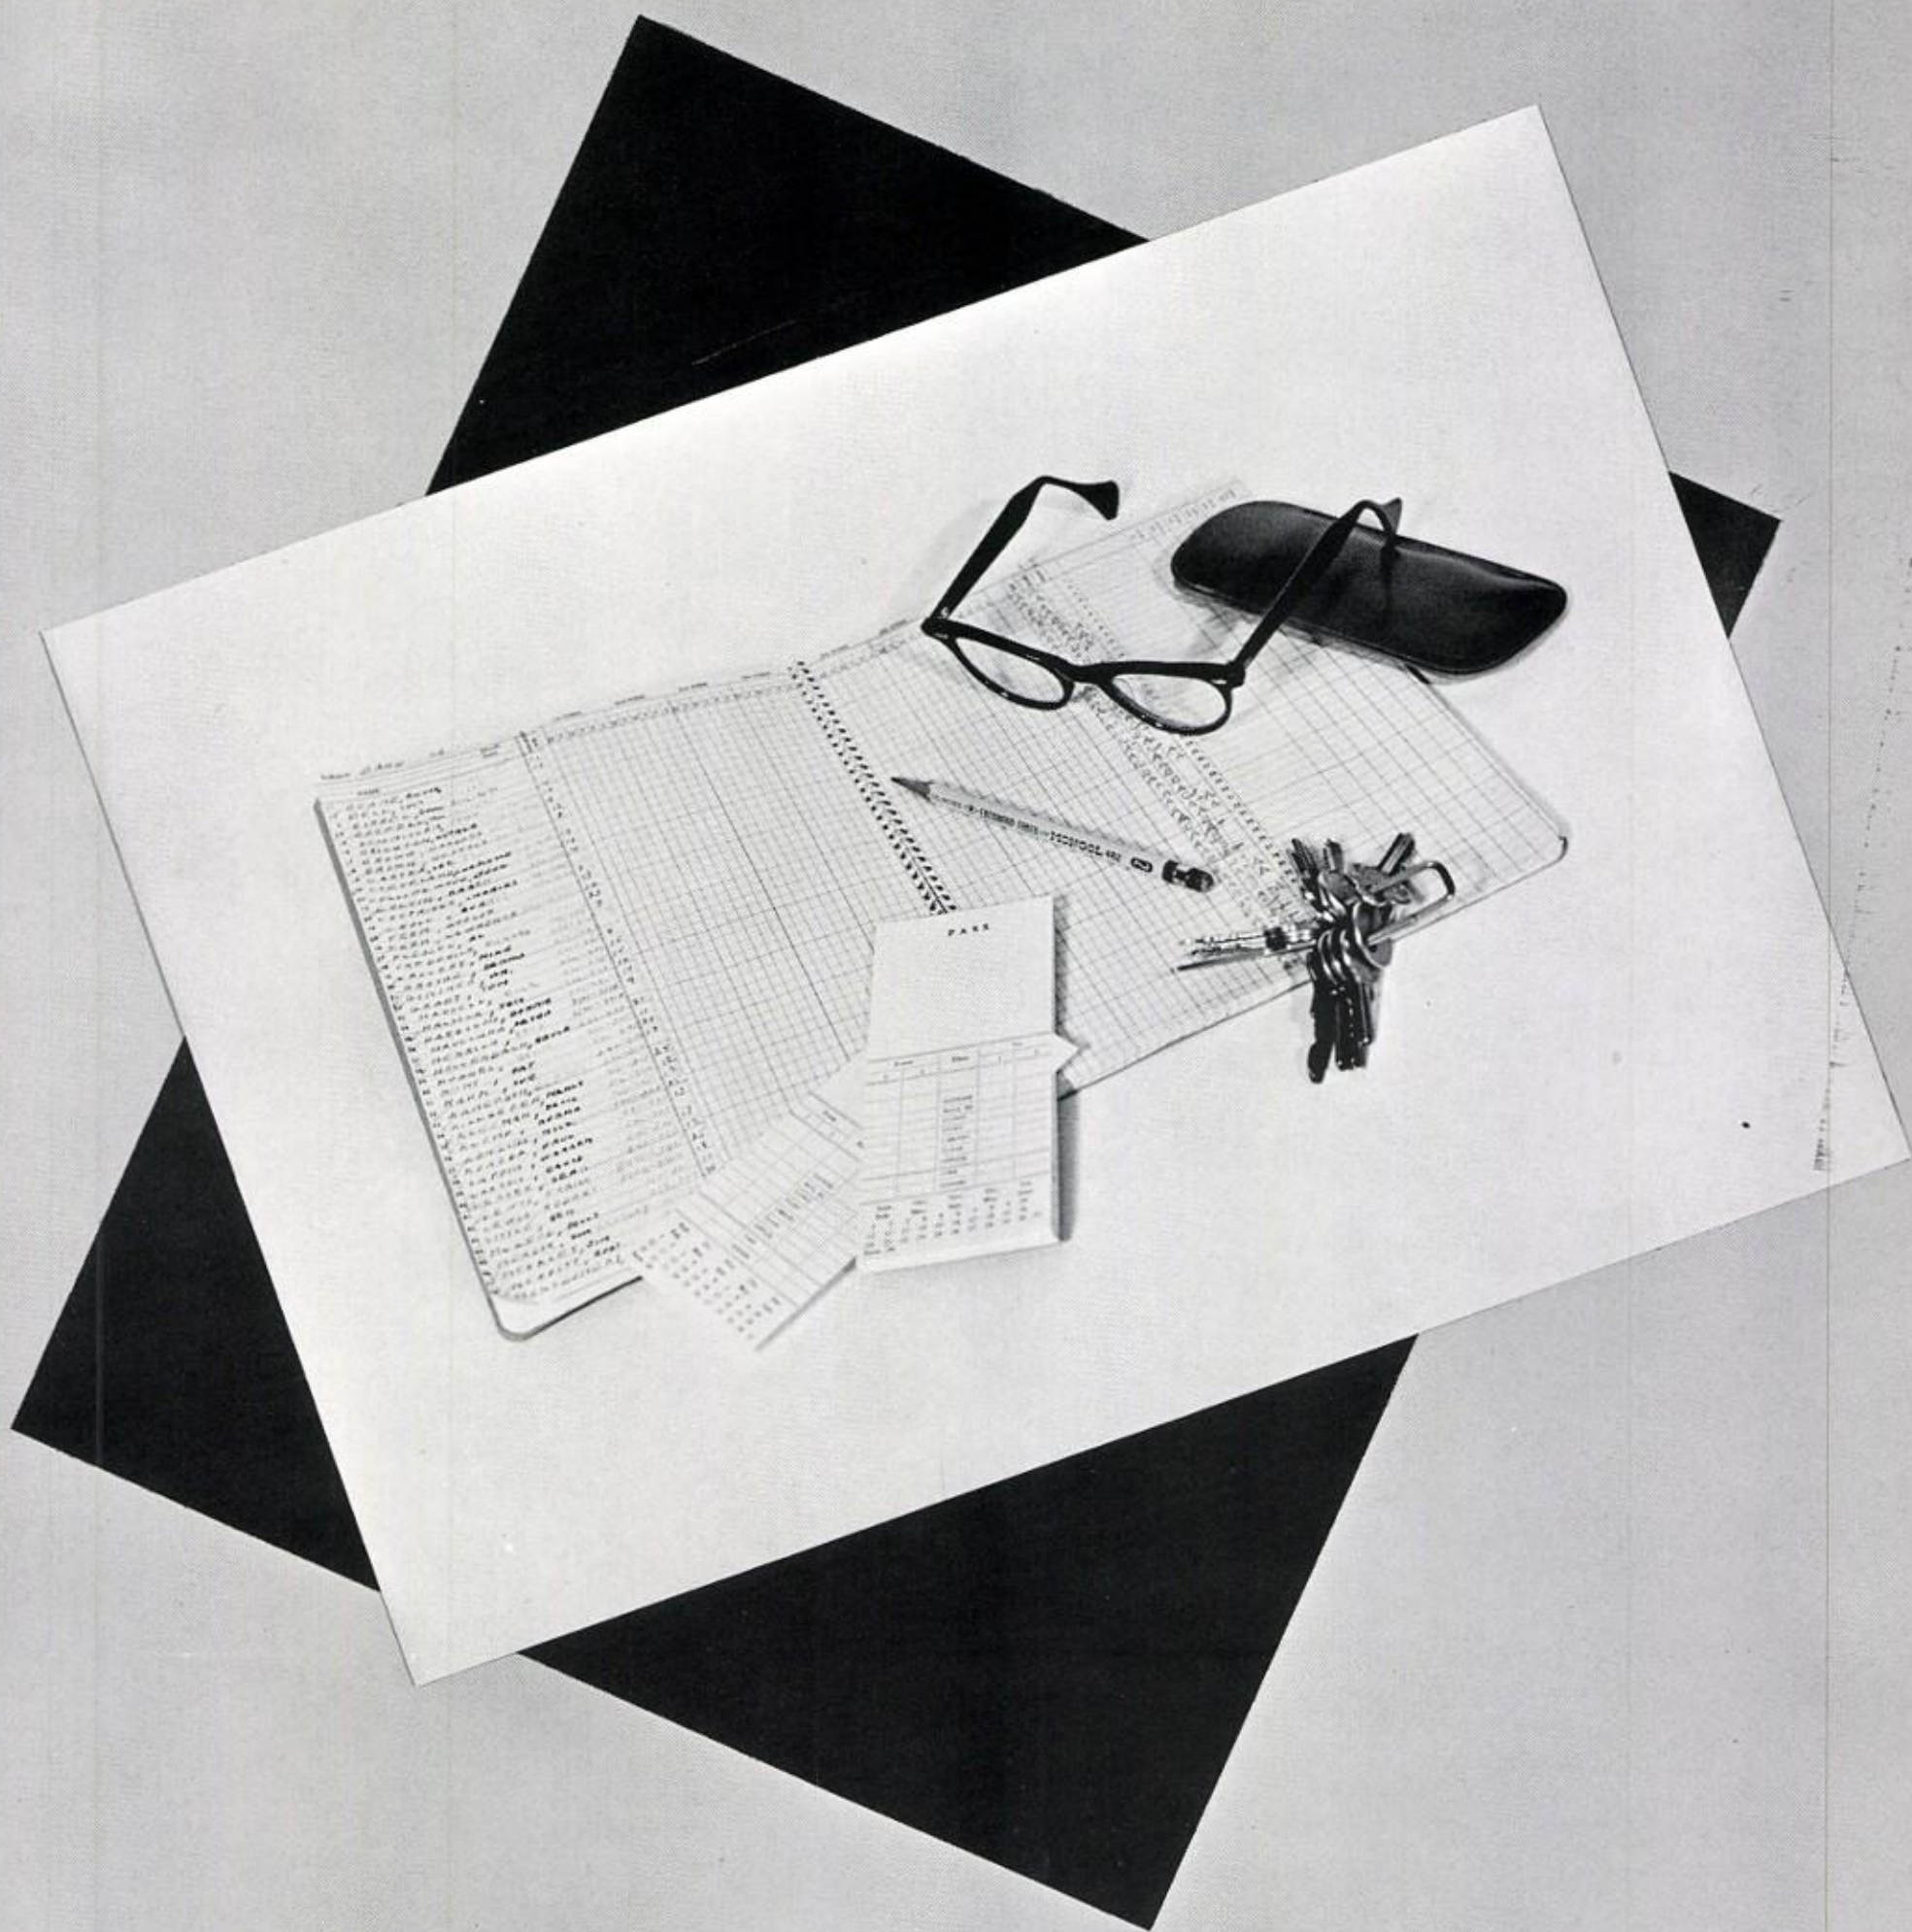

Amherst's service to the community extends beyond that required of a secondary school. Adults of our community are offered the opportunity to attend night classes in a wide variety of subjects. The Adult Education Program, under the direction of Dr. Minich, Mrs. Mary Parke, and Mrs. Nevin continues to be well attended. The program is designed to include courses of interest to adults of all educational backgrounds.

The Class of 1959 has left behind it a record of which it may be proud.

Its members have received honors in the fields of science, sports, poetry, and music.

"Sayonara," "Show Boat," "Charley's Aunt," and "Moonlight Mist" will certainly bring back memories of enjoyable evenings. The success of these events attested to the abilities of our Senior Class.

The class will long remember its years at Amherst and the guidance of Mr. Schuchardt and the Senior Class advisers.

For weeks the program, property, ticket, and publicity committees had worked hard to make the junior play a success. Practically every junior participated in the preparation of the play.

On April 25, with the full support of our class, the play opened to a capacity audience and we saw the actors transform our stage into the wonderful world of Charley's Aunt.

As the curtain closed on Saturday night we knew our junior play had been well worth the effort.

Phyllis Henrich, Pat Stott, Barry Jones.

class of 1960

Peter Hauschka, treasurer; Anne Fribolin, vice president; Frank DiLorenzo, president; Pat Slodden, secretary.

Accomplishment is the theme of every Junior Class. The Juniors always come through with continual vigor and enthusiasm in all projects they undertake. Of course, the class of 1960 is no exception to this rule. With the guidance of Mrs. Heuser and Mr. Kentner, this class won the Magazine Drive, a traditional Junior victory, and produced a successful play. The prom in May was enjoyed by all attending and proved a tribute to those who worked for its success.

As seniors, this class should prove outstanding!

Mrs. Heuser - Thank you for the fine way in which you have made me feel welcome here. It is a privilege to be a part of the Junior Class. I enjoyed the Magazine Drive and the prom. I am sure the Juniors will do well in the future. Harry Humphreys.

Working up enthusiasm for the magazine drive are these junior "cheerleaders:" Frank DiLorenzo, John Knox, Paul Fleischauer, Dave Cook and John Barie.

Doug Birrell, treasurer; Charlotte Cleveland, vice president; Marshall Cusic, president; Karen Berner, secretary.

This year's Sophomore Class has not followed the usual pattern of shyness and hesitancy. On the contrary, this class has cooperated with vigor, enthusiasm, and originality. Initiative was especially evident in project participation, and noted particularly in competition with upper classmen. The Class of '61 placed second in the Magazine Drive with a score which nearly made a win. The sophomore party, "June in January," was a night which will be remembered by class members as highly entertaining. Its success was due to the guidance of Miss Butt, the class officers and to the work of effective student committees.

Amherst can look to this class as a credit to the school!

The Student Council is the lubricant of Amherst, helping the student body, faculty and community run smoothly side by side.

Amherst had two foreign exchange students under the American Field Service. Ruby Divecha from Pakistan and Otfried Albrecht from Germany gave Amherstonians ideas of the cultures of their homelands. Going the other direction, Mary Cook spent the summer of her junior year in Germany.

Money used for the Christmas party, the American Field Service, and to subsidize school activities was raised from the fall magazine drive, netting $1125.

The Council presented a Variety Show, an annual Sports Day, and joined in community fund-raising projects, making and sending the Christmas card to Williamsville, working with honor study hall, presenting award assemblies, sponsoring a football parade to Williamsville, and publishing the "Tale of Two Tigers."

The executive board met each day during seventh hour under the supervision of Ray Foley, president; Dave Ammerman, vice president; Ellen McNamara, secretary; and Dave Cook, treasurer; with Mr. Rosenberry and Mrs. Husband, advisers.

Membership in the Amherst chapter of the National Honor Society represents the highest form of recognition of scholastic achievement and school service. Membership is based on character, scholarship, leadership, and service. In order to qualify for membership, a student must maintain a B average. In addition to this, the student is asked to fill out an activities sheet. The activity sponsors and classroom teachers evaluate the student's merit and participation in the classroom and activity. An awards committee studies the candidates for membership on the basis of the past record and the evaluations.

The Honor Society conducts an extensive program throughout the year. The society's largest function is the school supply store whose profits are used for scholarships for outstanding students. Other functions are the maintaining of a scholarship file, and the awarding of Honor Roll plaques and certificates.

With the assistance of Mr. Schuchardt, each member of the Honor Society is able to serve Amherst.

The officers of Honor Society this year were the following: president, David Larson; vice president, Shirley Ellis; treasurer, Martha Tallman; secretary, Linda Eddy; store managers, Jerome Brown and Sally Pierce; and sponsor, Mr. Arthur Schuchardt.

Construction of the 1959 Tower commenced before the 1958 yearbook had been published. As with previous Tower staffs, this year's did not come ready made, complete with all necessary information. A workable knowledge of printing terms and publishing data had to be assimilated before the decisions of what to include and what not to include in the yearbook could be made. Although a few sought-for goals had to be sacrificed in order that the yearbook remain within the budget and the deadlines be reached, the keynote of this year's Tower is originality. Several members of the staff attended interschool conferences in the hope of finding new ideas that could be incorporated in the Tower.

It has not been the purpose of this year's staff to outdo all previous staffs. Its goal has been to produce a sturdy, good-looking book which will preserve this year's events and memories so that they will never be forgotten.

The much-read TATLER is one of the most important publications at Amherst. It admirably fulfills its post as a school newspaper not only by keeping students and faculty well-informed about events at our school, but also by training the staff in the fundamentals of journalism, such as writing, editing, and reporting.

The staff worked diligently to make this year's paper a big success. They met every sixth hour to write, proofread, and type the articles scheduled for the next issue. During the week before the paper goes to press, the editors and other staff members stay long after school, getting all their efforts into final form for the printer. The result was always a source of pleasure to Amherstonians.

Students with talent and interest in Creative writing or art contribute material to the Triad, an annual publication which includes poems, short stories, essays, and art work. Work of both junior and senior high students is included in the Triad. Special recognition is given to the best of the entries in the book. Many of the better poems are submitted for inclusion in the National Poetry Anthology. This year's staff, guided by Mrs. Meese, has succeeded in producing an outstanding publication.

The Quill and Scroll Society is a national honor organization which recognizes those who have excelled in the field of journalism. Faculty sponsors of the Tower, Tatler, Triad and Tale of Two Tigers nominate potential members. The society, sponsored by Mrs. Janette Atkinson, holds the annual Press Banquet in the spring at which the various executive publications announce their next year's members. Officers of the Amherst Chapter this year are president, Barbara Brown; vice president, Ann Rinebolt; secretary, Linda Mohr; and treasurer, Beverly Brown.

Keeping the community informed about the doings at Amherst is the responsibility of the Newspaper Club. The club's column, "Amherst Central Activities," appears in the Amherst Bee, the area's local weekly newspaper. The club, under the guidance of Mrs. Hannel and the capable leadership of Linda Mohr, editor-in-chief, keeps readers up to date on all phases of activity at Amherst. All interested students have the opportunity to try out their reporting ability. Each club member contributes two articles a month to the column.

The creative writing club at Amherst, under the name of Scribblers, has prospered for the past two years under the guidance of Mrs. Meese. Peter Wolfe, president; and Vivian Holder, secretary-treasurer, have supplied the leadership which has carried the group through the year's work. From a small club at its beginning, the organization has grown to its present size of twenty writers.

Although limited in funds, the Scribblers with faculty and student cooperation have staged an annual Christmas party. This year's party was planned to coincide with the publication of a Scribbler article in the Readers Digest.

The Poetry Club has been set up at Amherst in order to train young minds that they might better be able to receive the beauty and art of poetry. This goal has been obtained through a two-fold plan: analyzing and writing poetry. Although a comparatively new organization, the club has steadily picked up members until it has reached its present size of fifteen active members.

Gini Kiebzak was president of the group, and Mrs. Meese was adviser.

The vibrant strains of "Forward Amherst" on a crisp Saturday afternoon in October . . . the perfect blending of sixty voices raised to Randall Thompson's "Alleluia" . . . the lively syncopation of "Steam Heat" played to an assembly crowd . . . the soaring melodies of "Show Boat" on the opening night of operetta . . . triumph of "The New World Symphony" performed before a hushed audience . . . each of these is the product of long and tedious rehearsal by one of Amherst's outstanding musical organizations. The band, directed by Mr. John Krestic, performs as a concert band during most of the year and as a marching unit during football season. Under the leadership of its president, David Larson, the band performed in the International Festival at Toronto and took part in an exchange program with another high school. The band holds a concert in the spring and takes part in other special programs. Amherst's orchestra is considered one of the finest in our area. Besides an annual concert, they provide the instrumental music for the operetta, which is the most important of Amherst's stage productions. The highlight of the year for the vocal department, the operetta features members of both the Mixed Chorus and A Cappella Choir. The chorus and choir also participate in the Christmas program and special assemblies. The A Cappella Choir takes part in an exchange program as well as performing for schools in the immediate area.

Amherst offers excellent opportunities for those interested in the dramatic arts. Amards is a club open to all who are interested in dramatics. Members of Amards work towards attaining membership in Thespians, the school's honor organization for achievement in dramatics. The necessary ten points for joining Thespians may be obtained by acting in the various plays or operetta or by working on committees in connection with these presentations. The activities of the clubs include participation in the Christmas pageant, presentation of a play, and occasional field trips.

Mr. Klayman sponsors both groups. The Thespians elected these officers this year: Christine Pezoldt, president; Jerome Brown, vice president; Linda Eddy, secretary; Elaine Braun, treasurer; and Heather Woodall, historian.

Organized to give students experience in orderly discussion of current topics, the Debate Club was active on many Friday afternoons. Mr. Saltarelli, the sponsor, instructed the members in debating techniques. This year, the club considered such problems as American defense of the Formosa islands, integration, the justification of Hitler's policy, and the abolishing of the Youthful Offender Act.

Officers were Norman Richardson, president; Tom Noell, vice president; Marsha Roizin, secretary-treasurer; and Bob Summers, sergeant at arms.

The purpose of the Future Teachers of America is to give students who are interested in teaching opportunities for learning more about the profession. This year, in the Philip A. Schweickhard Chapter of the club, each student worked with a teacher in the field in which he was interested. In this way the member got a clearer idea of the duties and responsibilities in his selected field. This has been another successful year for the F.T.A. with Mr. Wilkens again acting as adviser.

Row 1: Cynthia Stewart, Ardis Simpson, secretary, Margo Brown, president, Marie Hardin, vice president, Ginny Kiebzak. Row 2: Henry Schwede, treasurer, Bonnie Craik, Linda Maeder, Bonnie Adornett, Lorraine Hanaka, Mary Ellen Usiak. To give to students a knowledge of the culture and customs of their respective nations—this is the aim of the language clubs.

Last fall the Spanish Club, under the sponsorship of Mrs. Heuser, held, with the other language clubs, a tea in honor of the foreign exchange students here. At the Christmas party the gaily decorated pinata full of candy and small gifts added to everyone's enjoyment. A dinner was held in the spring.

At its Christmas party, the French Club members exchanged small gifts and sang French Christmas carols. Then came a field trip to observe elementary school children learning French. Later events included a theater party, and a bake sale for the benefit of Unesco. The year closed with a dinner where much good French food was served. Miss Enea was adviser.

St. Nicholas (some claimed he was Mr. Wilkens) showed up in his liederhosen and beard to give gifts at the German Club Christmas party. A sampling of further activities: attending German movies in Williamsville, hearing Mary Cook tell of her summer in Germany, and supping on true German food at a German restaurant.

The Samovar Club with the instruction of Mr. Wilkens, studied the basic elements of the Russian language learning to write the Russian alphabet and to sing traditional songs of the country.

The Math Club provided top students in math with topics in that subject not included in the curriculum.

In conjunction with the math clubs of Clarence, Cleveland Hill, Nichols, Buffalo Seminary, and Kenmore, the Amherst Math Club was studying "Probability and Statistical Inference" under the supervision of Miss Morris.

The officers were Tom Noell, president, and Margot Schroeder, secretary-treasurer.

Many students have found that class periods just do not furnish enough time to learn all they want to about a subject. Also, because of the lack of individual equipment, art students especially need the facilities granted by the school. For this reason the Art Club has been set up as an active extension of art classes. Mrs. Bang, adviser; Ginno Kiebsak, president; Jean Lesser, secretary; and Nancy Tobin, vice president, have worked to plan a program in which the ideals of art may develop in each member.

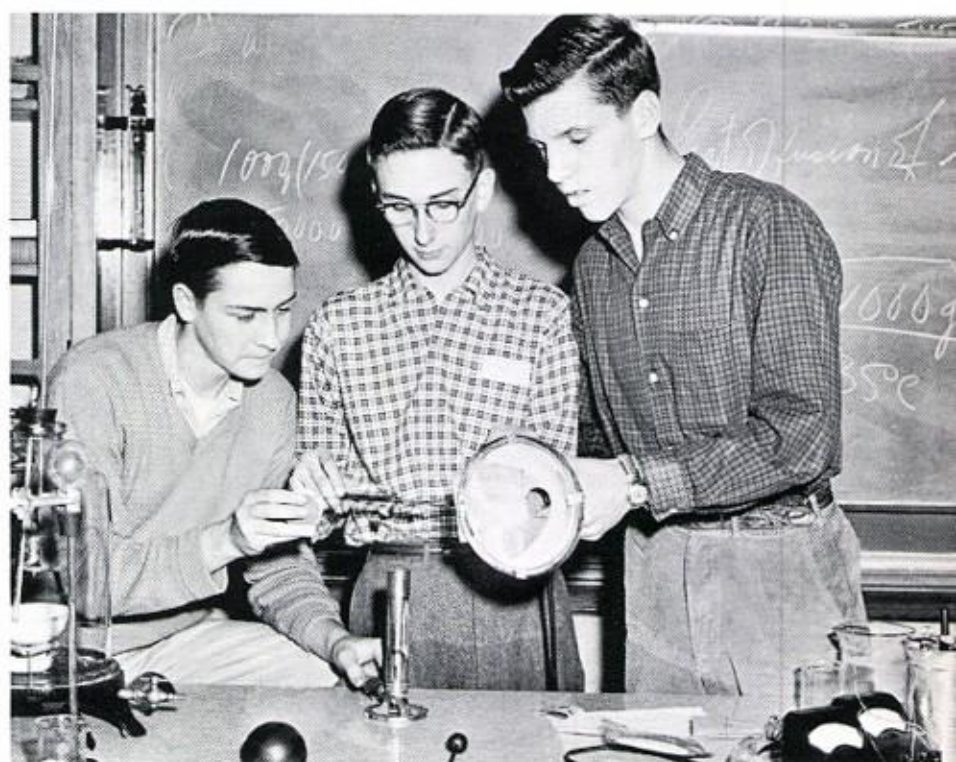

biology club

Senior Science Club and Biology Club formulate the after school activities in the science department. The Biology Club, under Mr. Lape and the officers, president, Bennett Little; and secretary, Guy Ward; has a well organized program consisting of lectures, field trips, and demonstrations.

Movies, lectures, student projects, and field trips were part of the Senior Science Club's program. The meetings under the directorship of Mr. Ungerer and Mr. Petersen with the help of the officers, president, Steve Iglehart; vice-president, Vivian Holder; and treasurer, Tom Noell; were well attended.

Working on their project for the annual Science Congress are the following boys: Tom Noell, Steve Iglehart, Jan Lindyberg.

Under the leadership of Mr. Rosenberry and this year Mr. Cutcher, the Inter Hi-Y Council has kept the Hi-Y's running smoothly for the past ten years. It is the purpose of the Inter Hi-Y Council to coordinate the activities of the various groups at Amherst. The Council itself is composed of the presidents, vice presidents, and representatives from each of the six major Hi-Y's. Once each month this body meets to discuss the various financial and entertainment plans that are brought up by the individual clubs.

Through the direction of the Council an extremely successful Children's Rehabilitation Center drive was launched. Other Council-sponsored activities included a Christmas carol sing, and a Group Hi-Y dance. The effectiveness of this organization has increased each year; the group therefore has taken upon itself many of the administrative duties previously performed by advisers.

This year's officers have been Heather Woodall, president; Bob McKinley, vice president; Phyllis Henrich, secretary; Jacky Steck, treasurer; and Sandy Schall, chaplain.

library service club

Two student service organizations, the Library Service Club and the Guidance Office Receptionists, are almost indispensable in helping our library and guidance offices function efficiently.

In the library many useful and necessary duties, such as checking books and preparing displays (like those for National Book Week) are performed by students who voluntarily give up their free time in order to help others.

In the guidance office the student receptionists are important in keeping the constant stream of students flowing smoothly and in helping with typing and errands.

Under the supervision of Mr. Schaefer, the projection crew sets up and operates slide machines, projectors, tape recorders, and record players. Besides being an invaluable aid to teachers, the projection crew works for Adult Education groups, Hi-Y's, and various groups who desire their help.

The Stage Crew works tirelessly on the school assemblies, class plays, concerts and water follies. Under the direction of Mr. Reimann, the members learn the art of lighting and amplification.

The first full year of existence has been a very successful one for the Amherst Varsity Club. Its purpose is to promote a sense of brotherhood among members of the various teams at school and to help out at athletic events throughout the year. This year members have sold programs for football games, served as ushers at the basketball games, and helped officiate at track meets. The club also held a dance after the Williamsville basketball game.

To be eligible to belong to the Varsity Club, a boy must win a varsity letter and then be elected to membership by vote of the club. Mr. Kentner is the sponsor and has been a great help in getting the club started. Officers for the year have been Dave Ammerman, president; Dale Rosenberry, vice president; John Lubking, treasurer; Ed Friedrich, secretary.

gymnastics club

The Gymnastics Club provides senior high boys and girls with an opportunity to do further work in gymnastics beyond that given in physical education classes. The club, now in the second year, includes in its programs tumbling and work with the trampoline, parallel bars, and other apparatus. Mr. McAllister sponsors the Gymnastics Club and guides the members in their mastering of the stunts and exercises.

Senior, junior, and sophomore boys who were interested in automobiles joined the Transportation Explorers. At weekly meetings the club carried out such activities as field trips, working on old cars, and listening to guest speakers. Mr. Van Aken sponsored the club, which elected the following officers this year: president, Paul Vergils; secretary-treasurer, Bob Ductor.

The Riding Club, which originated two years ago, gives to the equestrians of Amherst an opportunity to improve their knowledge of horsemanship. Throughout the year, the members visited various stables in the surrounding area. Under the sponsorship of Mr. Martin, the officers, Paul Barclay, president; Barbara Mueller, vice-president; Sandy Strible, secretary; and Sue Juhl, treasurer; were able to carry out their respective tasks.

The Junior Red Cross Council is a service organization under the leadership of Miss Hildebrand. The club made many articles such as afghans and scrapbooks which were distributed to worthy causes through the National Junior Red Cross. This year's officers were Gail Farmer, president; Sally Pierce, vice president; Eleanor Brychta, secretary-treasurer.

Amherst is one of the few high schools in the country fortunate enough to have a student union.

In its third year of operation, the Amherst Student Union has become an integral part in the life of students. The Union stages record hops and dances throughout the year and operates the hot dog stand at football games. The Senior Honor Study Hall has used the Tiger Town Lounge every period of the day, and after school the Lounge and Snack Bar are crowded with students.

Every student is eligible for membership, and cards are issued to each member.

Student Union activities are planned by the Executive Board made up of representatives from each class and guided by Mr. Kidd.

Amherst's Football Tigers opened the season at Orchard Park where they struck through the air to upset the defending champions 20-13. The following week saw a close battle end in defeat for Amherst despite a spirited second-half surge.

Realizing that the race for the league title would be tight, the team came back with a hard-fought victory over rugged Cleveland Hill. Carl Batt and Captain John Paepow were lost for the season due to injuries just before the big game with Williamsville. This hurt as the Tigers dropped the game to their air-minded arch-rivals.

In the home stretch the Tigers showed a tremendous amount of drive as they ground out victories over Frontier and East Aurora. The biggest game of the season unfolded at Hamburg as Amherst exploded for four touchdowns in the first half to crush the previously unbeaten Division I champions. Coach Kentner called it the greatest team victory during his coaching career. The Tigers lost a tough battle to Lancaster as the season ended.

Dave Harrison was selected as Most Valuable Player. The Harrisons, Lewis, McLeod, Mazuca, Messina, and Wardour all played important roles throughout a successful season.

Amherst again came out with a superb soccer team, captained this year by Dale Rosenberry. Coach McAllister successfully filled the shoes of Mr. Wratten as his team posted a ten, three and one record to take second place in the league. The greatest contribution to its success lay in the fact that the team was extremely well-balanced. Captain Rosenberry led the scoring with thirty-six points while Alex Haase, John Barie, Paul Barclay, Joe Caggiano, Paul Fleischauer, and Ed Friedrich added strength and balance to the team. The Tigers were in contention for the league leadership all the way as they started the season with a bang, losing only one game in the first nine. One of the most exciting games of the year was a hard fought struggle between the champion Frontier team and the Amherst Tigers on the field at Frontier. Although it ended in a five to six defeat for Amherst, it was a good example of the team's determination.

The Junior Varsity gave promise of things to come by posting a fifteen and one record, outscoring their opponents 170 to 21.

Mr. Bergman puts the team through limbering-up drills.

With only one senior on the team, Amherst's harriers went through their regular season's schedule posting three victories against six league rivals. The Tigers, led by Frank Emery, finished second in a triangular meet with West Seneca and Hamburg. Hamburg took first place as a team, but the junior, Emery, placed first as an individual runner, repeating this performance to lead his teammates to a romp over Frontier at their next meet. In all, Emery finished first five times in five regular season attempts. Along with individual triumphs, the team as a whole supplied the margin of victory with the able running of Lee Carter, Clark Goetzmann, Ed Peard, and Mike Thiedeman.

This year's version of the Amherst Swimming team had an uphill grind all the way. The record stands at five wins and seven losses. The efforts of the team and Coach Weber resulted in winning four out of their last seven meets after what looked like a very dismal season. A good outlook for next year is due mainly to such performers as Lee Cook, Peter Minich, and Alex Haase, all of whom will return to lead the mermen. This season found Lee Cook undefeated in league competition in the breaststroke, as he set many pool records and annexed the league record by cutting the water for a 1:08.7 clocking. Pete Minich and Alex Haase accompanied Coach Weber and Lee Cook to a tournament in Lawrenceville, New Jersey, where Cook landed second place in the eastern United States.

Coach Bob Hettler again fielded a fine team to carry the honors for Amherst Central. Although the Tigers had an excellent sixteen and two record, they were edged out of a play-off berth for the first time in several years. It was a case of "so close and yet so far away" as the team suffered a two point loss to Williamsville on the final day of the season to cop second place in the league.

The most outstanding feature of this year's team, unlike those of the past, was balanced scoring from all positions. Each member of the all-senior first team scored between 160 and 221 points for the season. Captain John Lubking led the scorers with 221 points and a 12.2 game average. John was followed closely by Paepow, Ammerman, Harrison, and Gay.

It was felt by Coach Hettler that it was aggressiveness that carried the team through the season, and it was also this factor that resulted in their only two losses.

The Tigers had three of their team named on the newspaper all-star team; these were Lubking, Paepow, and Ammerman.

The Junior Varsity five under the tutelage of Coach Alan Schaefer has followed the example set by their older and more experienced varsity colleagues, and with the exception of a 45-44 setback at the hands of Williamsville, they have taken the measure of every other team. Sophomore Larry Brassel was outstanding for amassing a total of over 200 points in competition. Captain Jack Fisher, Mike Schall, Bill Cobb, and Bruce McPherson rounded out the regular starting five.

Don Sabo and Jim Grable start the second period in a wrestling match.

Highlighting a winning season, the wrestling team took third spot in the league race. Coach Wright guided his squad to a victorious eight and six season's record. Captain Don Sabo was an individual standout as he wrestled his way to twelve wins and one tie in fourteen outings in garnering the heavy-weight championship of the conference. Sophomore Bob Jackson again produced an excellent record by remaining undefeated throughout most of the season, suffering only one defeat in thirteen matches. Ron Parkinson, in his second year of wrestling, compiled a respectable twelve and two slate. Other notable team members were Lou Sabo, Mike Cohen, Don Fink, his brother Burt, Larry Detweiler, Jim Grable, and John Gentleman. Paul Harrison had his season cut short by an unfortunate accident and was technically the only undefeated member of the team with a two and nothing mark.

The season's card found the Tiger bowlers in third place after their late surge. The team followed the leadership of Captain Ed Friedrich in coming through for a final victory over Maryvale. Ed finished the season with a 172 average. Other key men during the season were Stuart Wilson (174), Wayne Mabry (169), Jon Adel (160), Mike Fried (153), John Whetstone (153), Dave Mitchell (150), Mark Rheingold (167), Angelo Costanzo, and John Lilga.

The team bounced back with convincing wins over Orchard Park and Cleveland Hill to annex the second position in the final standings. Captain John Bacon showed the way with a 276.5 average and was closely followed by Tom Gleason and George Skorupski.

An experienced Amherst baseball team climaxed a successful year with a late season surge to finish one game behind the league leaders. The competition was keen, and the final standings were not determined until the last game. The team was led in hitting by Captain Steve Smithey and was followed by George Bratty, Bob Appleby, and Ted Jacobs. Pitching was an important factor as the Tigers compiled an eleven-and-five record. Sophomore Joe Caggiano led Mr. Hettler's mound staff with a seven-and-one record. Gene Benzino had a three-and-four season which included three 1-0 losses. The determined club put on a show of "Amherst spirit" as they climbed from the middle of league standings to within a game of the leaders by defeating five out of their last six opponents. Hopes are high for continued success since the team was dominated by juniors.

Mr. Bergman and Mr. Weber found themselves faced with the problem of rebuilding the track team with the "smallest nucleus of returning lettermen in many years." The team fought hard all the way to break even with a four-and-four record. An example of the keen competition is the fact that three of Amherst's four losses found a difference of only five points separating the two teams. Fred Seidl was the top point getter for the Tigers all season putting the shot and hurling the discus. He set a Section VI record with an amazing heave of 52'6" at Hamburg in the ECIC Conference meet. Jim Braniecki was honored by his teammates with the Walter Lindsay Memorial Award for his team spirit and leadership. Other notable members of the team were Frank Emery, Lynn Wardour, Ned Seiffert, Aaron Billowitz, Al Pezoldt, Dave York and Carl Batt.

Amherst literally walked over the field this year by trouncing every opponent five to nothing. The only exception was a non-league match with Nichols; the amazing season found the Tigers unscored upon through their entire twelve-match ECIC schedule. With only two returning lettermen in Bob Hoeldtke, captain, and Ted Osborn, the team found new strength in singles players Lynch, and Lappin in addition to Bueschen and Ford, number one doubles, and Lewis and Toth, number two doubles. Hoeldtke, Osborn, Bueschen, and Ford entered the finals only to be defeated in close matches by Kenmore.

The season looked dismal for fourth place Amherst when the team was caught on the losing end in successive contests against Williamsville and Orchard Park. However, better weather and an excellent pep-up job by Coach Kentner helped power the Amherst five to an 11½-3½ victory over previously undefeated West Seneca. Team potential became evident as Cleveland Hill, Hamburg, Orchard Park, and Williamsville went down to defeat at the hands of an inspired team.

Dave Mitchell, Wayne Mabry, and Marc Yahn formed the nucleus of the team throughout the year. Other starters included Dave Coffas, Don Trudell, Mike Fried, and Pete Wolf.

The Girls' Sports Council was very ably directed this year by Miss Krehbiel and Miss Harzmann. Each home-room has a representative and an alternate who record the points earned in after-school sports by each girl. These go toward her letter. In the spring at the annual banquet the awards are presented, and the next year's officers are announced.

The council, as in past years, sponsored the Water Follies in March. The proceeds are used for the Alice Buerger and Betty Ackly Memorial Scholarships. Furthermore, an award for the "all around" senior girl is presented by the council.

President Judy Wallace was assisted by Vice president Carolyn Lehr in carrying out the council's activities. Lynn Eckhert as secretary and Mary Kay Santmire as treasurer proved to be invaluable in the keeping of the records.

1959 water follies

Preparation is the keystone of any production, and the Water Follies is no exception. Each year the same general pattern is followed. First, a theme is chosen with the help of Miss Krehbiel and Miss Harzmann.

After selecting the idea of "Holidays" for this year, each class decided on two—one for a class act and another for its specialty. The seniors picked the Fourth of July and St. Patrick's, the juniors Valentine's Day and Hallowe'en, and the sophomores Easter and Christmas. Each class also chose a particular swim stroke to use—crawl, breaststroke or sidestroke.

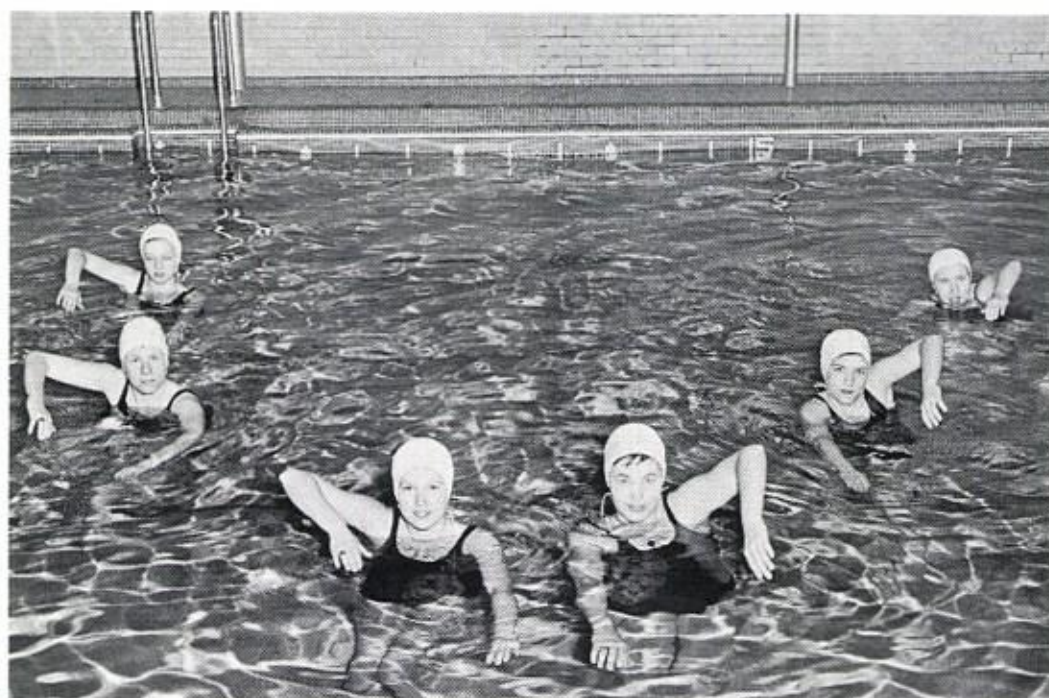

Continuing the planning, the girls considered the important factor of costumes, getting ideas and materials after sorting through the regalia of past years. Other committees formed to construct scenery, sell tickets, and publish the program. The very important narrator was chosen to introduce each act and draw the whole show together.

The most honored positions in the production were those in the finale, open to about ten best swimmers of the junior and senior classes and who belonged to the Swim Club. Participants in the specialty numbers also were chosen from the Swim Club.

Many hours of practice on land and sea went into the 1959 Water Follies so that each stroke, step, and stunt could be perfect. The actual performances on April 30 and May 1, 2, showed that the months of effort were worthwhile.

The chairmen of the class acts portray the holidays. Kneeling: Karen Anthony—Hallowe'en, Dale Eavenson—Easter, Barbara Grable—Christmas. Standing: Kathy Gee—Fourth of July, Judy Eavenson—St. Patrick's Day, Carol Hirsh—Valentine's Day.

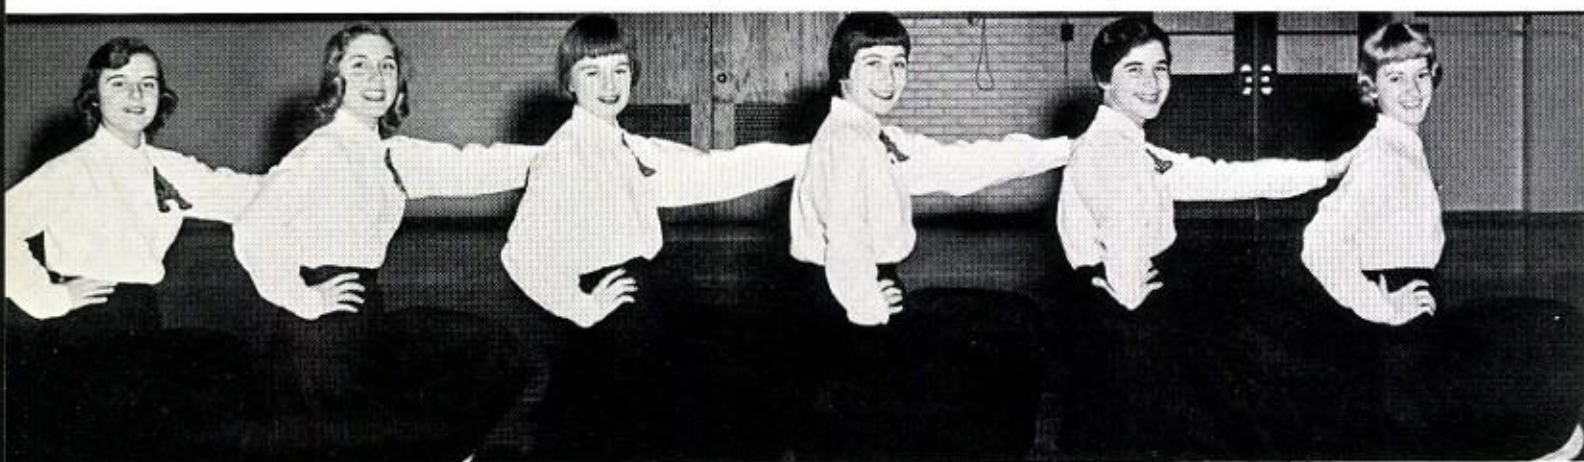

The finale practices a crawl stroke formation: Sandy Tracy, Sue Hoemke, Lynn Clark, Judy Wallace, Pat Slodden, Karen Anthony.

New chairs, experiment tables, sinks, and glassware aided Mr. Petersen and many seniors in chemistry.

New lighting and public address speakers were added features of our halls.

Juniors and Seniors were greeted by an improved Amherst when they returned this September. The mass renovation program was begun during the summer months and continued through the school year.

A new public address system serving the entire building, was perfected. A new heating apparatus as well as an improved lighting system adorned the building.

The physical education department boasts a radically improved girls' gym, renovated locker rooms, and improvements on the swimming pool.

Remodeling in the transportation shop included the installation of an adjustable hydraulic lift. The wood shop was considerably enlarged and dust collecting system was introduced. Completely remodeled foods lab and apartment areas will facilitate the work of the home economics department.

Amherst's new language laboratory is furnished with most modern of equipment. Students are able to improve their grasp of a foreign tongue by utilizing equipment which enables them not only to hear the language spoken but also to record their own voices. The custodial staff has installed a photography laboratory on the third floor.

Keeping up to date with the latest in educational equipment, the school offers a wide scope of learning opportunity to its student body.

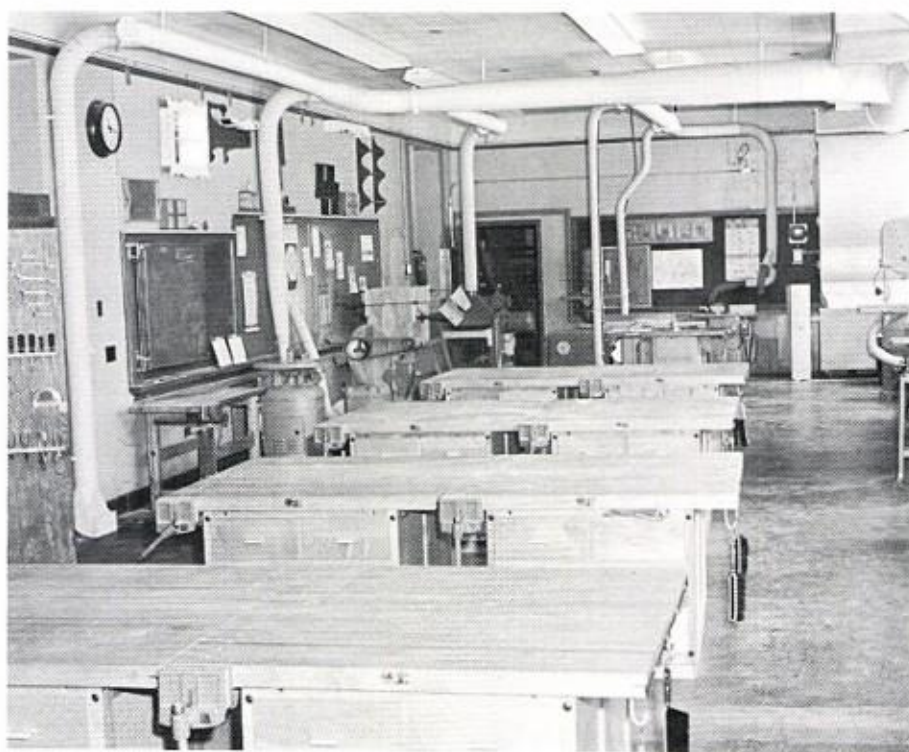

Control panel of the public address system has become an aid in the efficient operation of our school.

renovations

The boys' swimming locker room has gained a modern appearance through remodeling.

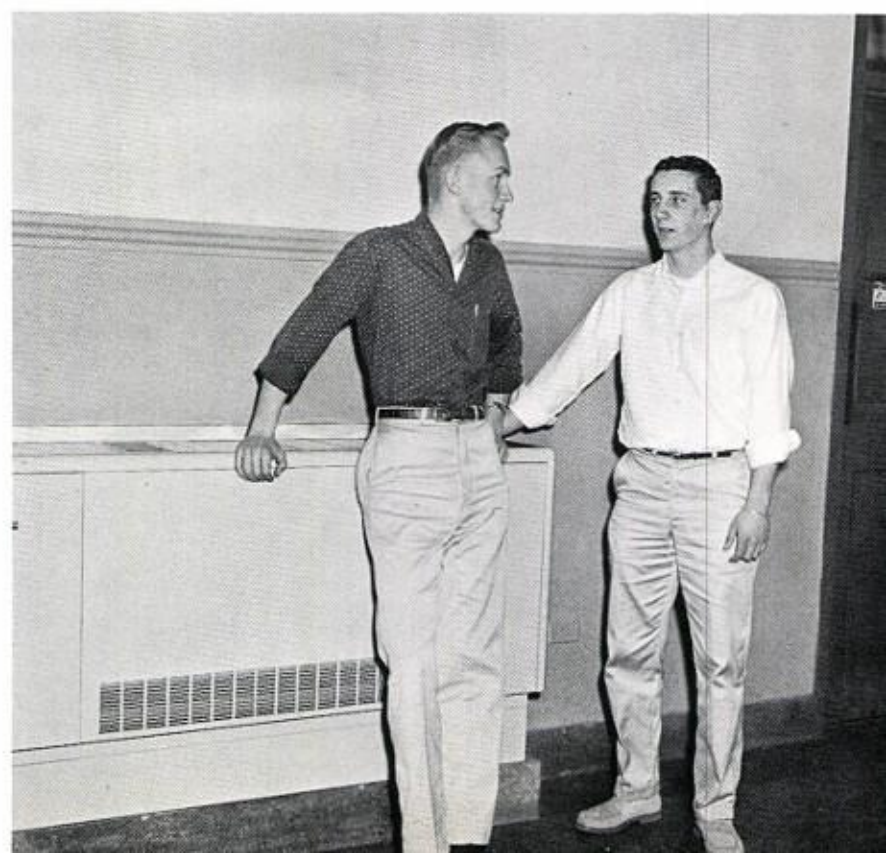

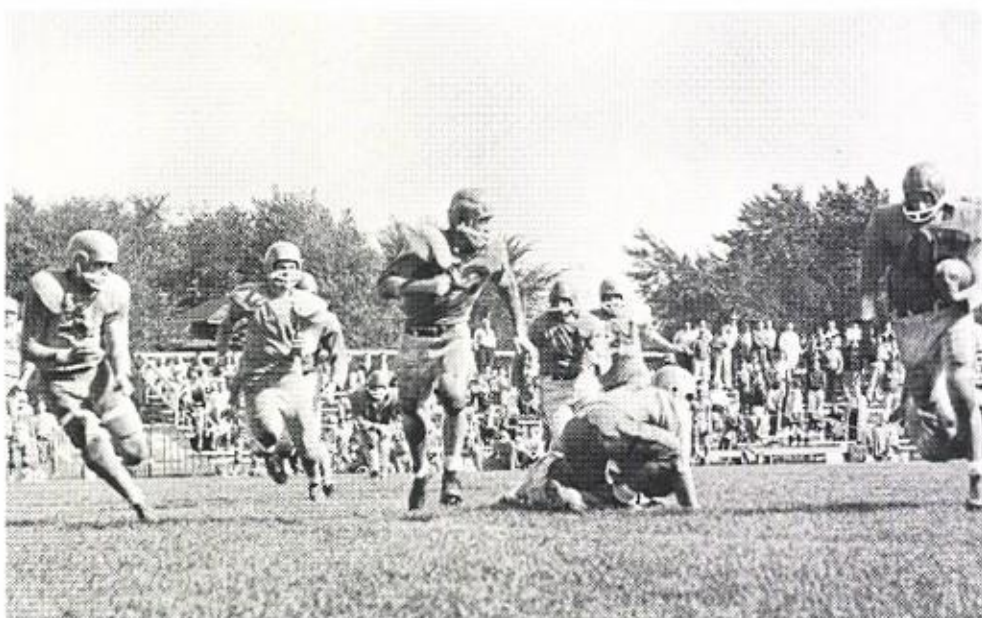

New work benches, machinery, and dust collecting system were features of the improved woodshop.

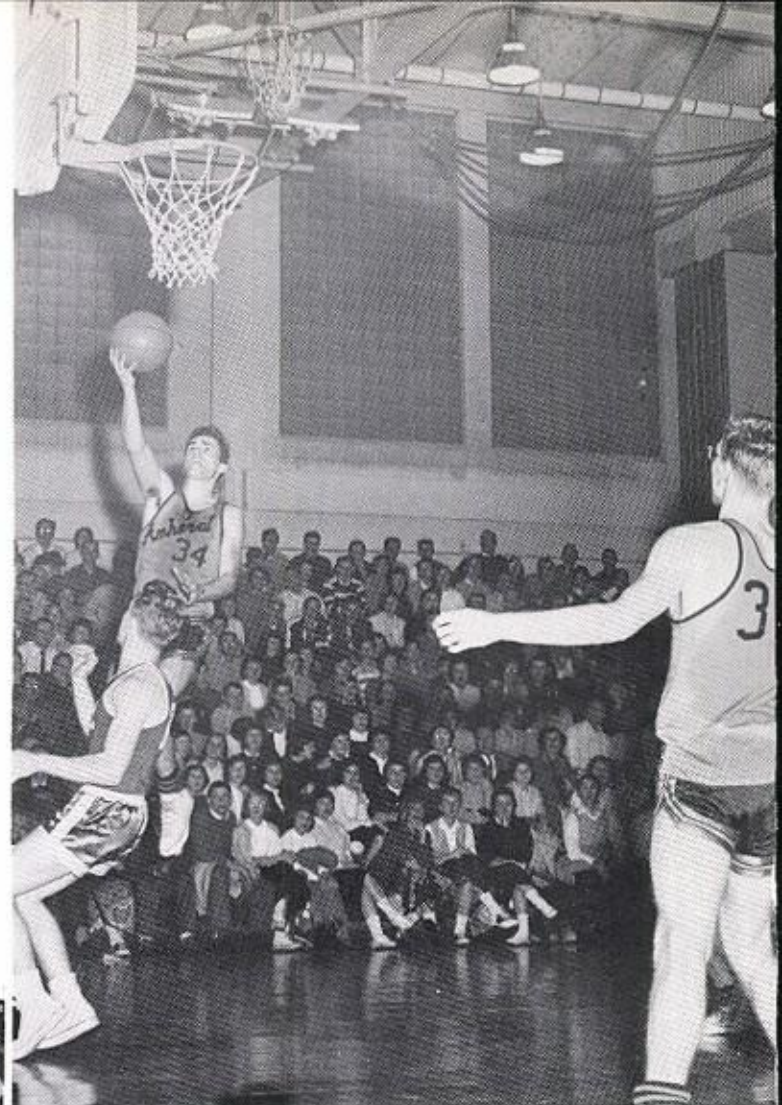

The foods laboratory is a greatly improved area for home economics' classes.

Seniors Charles Turner and Steve Smithey pause beside one of the units which now regulate the flow of heated air throughout the building.

The auditorium stage was transformed into the exotic world of Shangri-La on the evenings of April 17 and 18. A committee of seniors had chosen "Lost Horizon" by James Hilton to be presented by members of their class. The cast, guided by Mr. Klayman and their student directors, Jerry Brown and Linda Eddy, gave enjoyable and worthwhile performances. The play served as a fitting finale to the career of the Class of 1959.
